Hemerocallis

TWO SPECIES of Hemerocallis or Daylily have been widely known to gardeners for generations. Flava, the Lemon Lily, and Fulva Europa, the reddish orange Wayside Lily, were brought to this country by early settlers. In recent years great strides have been made in hybridizing, with amazing results, so that today it is possible to obtain a collection of Hemerocallis which will give a succession of bloom from Spring until Fall, with colors ranging from the most delicate pale yellow through orange, red, maroon tones and brown. There are also the most subtle and exquisite shades of peach, pink and rose. One of the outstanding characteristics of the Daylily is its extreme hardiness and sturdy habit of growth. No insect or disease has been known to injure it and any location suits it except extreme shade. When it is established it is hardy anywhere.

Naturalizing the Daylily

Gardeners are becoming increasingly interested in Daylilies as material for naturalizing since they lend themselves well to this type of planting. Their hardiness, attractive foliage and the fact that they require so little care, make it possible to use them effectively in locations unsuited to other perennials.

Hybrid Daylilies for this purpose can be supplied at $15.00 per hundred, fifty at the hundred rate, express collect. Varieties of our selection will be sent, properly labelled.

Planting Suggestions

The soil should be thoroughly pulverized and a hole dug large enough to comfortably accommodate all the plant roots without crowding them and allow every one to extend to its full length and natural position. A little well pulverized old manure and high grade commercial fertilizer should be thoroughly mixed with the loosened soil at the bottom of the hole. With the plant in place, its roots properly extended, hold it steady at the depth it grew in the nursery (bleached part of stem should be underground) while enough soil is placed around it to fill the remaining space to the ground level. Press soil around the plant firmly, thoroughly saturate with water and fill in with dry dirt. Plants should be watered frequently and the soil lightly worked when it becomes dry until the plant is well established.

The big difference between the Daylily and the average perennial is that the Daylily is far hardier and requires much less attention, for after it has been given a good start it takes care of itself. Daylilies are, of course, not indestructible and while they will grow in poor soil with no care, they repay the gardener for good food and water by giving an abundance of beautiful flowers and more luxuriant growth.

Terms and Guarantee

Our terms are cash with order. When an order amounts to $25.00 or over a discount of 10% will be allowed. This does not apply to Collections or to varieties marked Net. When an order amounts to $3.00 or more carrying charges will be paid by us, except in the case of plants sold for naturalizing. Our plants are guaranteed to be healthy stock, true to name, and to arrive in good condition. Should plants not arrive in good condition return them to us at once and we will send fresh plants or refund the purchase price, whichever seems best to us.

*Six of any variety except those marked net for the price of five.
Please read our terms and guarantee before ordering.*

Our Plants

You will read below excerpts from a few of our customers' letters. These letters have all been unsolicited. Our plants are well grown, true to name and reasonably priced. They are dug fresh for each order.

IOWA.

"I bought an order of Hemerocallis of you last Fall and was very much pleased with them. Best plants I bought last year."

PENNSYLVANIA.

"My plants arrived in fine condition. They can't help but grow. From the customer's standpoint, you have the rare faculty of combining fine strong plants with careful packing, a combination that spells satisfaction."

TEXAS.

"I ordered lilies from you last Spring and they were very satisfactory. Please send this new order as soon as possible."

NEW YORK.

"Your plants are by far the best I have received from any grower."

WEST VIRGINIA.

"I was so delighted with my first order of Hemerocallis that I am ordering a new collection from you."

NORTH CAROLINA.

"I had an order of Hemerocallis from you last Fall and all are lovely. I am enclosing an order for more."

VIRGINIA.

"The plants bought from you last Fall are fine. I think Hemerocallis is the answer to the gardener's prayer. Has everything and requires so little care. I have a large garden and after all the bother with bugs and blights on other perennials I appreciate Hemerocallis all the more."

MASSACHUSETTS.

"The Hemerocallis bought from you have just arrived. They are fine plants and in excellent condition."

FLORIDA.

"You are most generous in the size of your plants. They came in excellent condition."

MISSISSIPPI.

"I have enjoyed my lilies so much this Spring. They have bloomed beautifully."

MISSOURI.

"I ordered lilies from you last year and they are coming along fine."
